Timber Cruisers at Work in Florida.

Florida is about to get its practical experience of the results of National Forest administration. A reconnaissance survey of the Choctawhatchee Forests, which was put under control of the Department of Agriculture in November, 1908, by Presidential proclamation, is now being made by a force of Forest Service experts. This survey will furnish information in the light of which use of the forests can be promoted through properly regulated timber cutting, through turpentine and the cup-and-gutter or cup-and-apron method, and through grazing, without harm to the permanent value of the forests. Florida was the first State east of the Mississippi to have a National Forest.

The Choctawhatchee Forest containing approximately 467,606 acres, is located in the western part of the State, along the Gulf, in Walton and Santa Rosa counties. The Ocala Forests, embracing some 207,285 acres, lies in the central part, the greater portion of the Forest being in Marion county, with a small fraction in Lake. The two Forests were placed under administration November 1, 1909.

As long ago as 1825, Congress appropriated $10,000 to buy live oak land on Santa Rosa sound to make sure of a supply of ship timber for our war vessels. This conservation, together with other tracts subsequently set aside, made a total of 208,224 acres in Florida timberlands which the government purposed to hold as a source of supply for its ships. Large quantities of acorns were planted and many young oaks set out. But the plantation was not a great success, and the main effort was ultimately restricted to thinning out, pruning and other silvicultural care of the trees of the natural forest. To-day the new attempt at forestry in the Peninsular State Promises much more encouraging results.

The party of eight Forest Service cruisers, headed by A. B. Recknagel, Assistant Chief of Silviculture at Albuquerque, New Mexico, have already commenced operations near the head of Little Alapka. The crew will proceed westward to the western border on East Bay river. An accurate survey of all the government land will be taken, the stumpage estimated, and a report made of the number of turpentine cups that, in accordance with the latest federal regulations, may properly be placed on the Forest.

When the cruisers shall have completed their work on the Choctawhatchee, a similar inspection of the Ocala Forests will be made. It is thought the surveys will engage the force till the beginning of summer. Sites have been selected for the rangers' houses, to be built by contract.

A local estimator figures that the country-school and road funds will profit by the turpentine, grazing, timber-cutting, and other receipts of the Choctawhatchee Forest to the extent of $700 to $800 this first year, since twenty-five per cent. of all such revenues is to go into these funds.

When Time Didn't Fly.

Little Helen during the three years of her life had never been separated from her older sister night or day for more than a few minutes at a time, but at last the time came when the sister went away for a while. The child tried every game and occupation that she knew of and a new one or two suggested by her mother, but they all failed. Finally she gave up and stood and looked sadly out of the window. Then she sighed deeply and said: "It's still the same old day, isn't it, mother?"—Woman's Home Companion.

Flat Lick

D. W. Slusher came home from Knoxville Friday night.

Miss Myrtle Gray came home Tuesday from a month's visit to her sister at Straight Creek.

Miss Elton Stewart was the guest of Mrs. S. C. Barley Sunday.

Rev. Milton Sealf preached at Sealf Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Ellen J. Davis was the pleasant guest of Miss Effie Sealf Sunday. J. H. Slusher returned home Saturday from Oklahoma, where he had been visiting for three weeks.

A revival meeting is going on here and having good attendance.

D. W. Slusher was in Pineville Tuesday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Baker, of Lancaster, are visiting home folks here this week.

Mrs. Isaac Horn and son Carlo left Sunday night for Oklahoma.

Will Moore is very ill with typhoid fever this week.

Judge J. T. Stamper, of Barbourville, was here Tuesday and preached for us Tuesday night.

The Anomalies of Taste.

A weak, delicate woman was wheeled in an invalid's chair to the book department.

"The latest big, burly novel for men with red blood in their veins, please!" quoth she in a voice that was scarce above a whisper.

Just then a powerful, broad chested man with a red neck stamped in. "I want a story in the lavender and elee style, with a tender love thread—in short, something sweet!" he roared.

But neither need have spoken. At sight of them the clerks knew what they were after.—Puck.

Strongly Intended.

A fellow whose appearance warranted the belief that he had quarreled with soap and water some years ago applied for a position as porter with a large concern where help was badly needed. The manager looked him over doubtfully. Finally he handed him a dollar.

"Go uptown and take a bath," he told him. "Then come back and maybe I'll be able to take you on."

The fellow started for the door. "And, oh, by the way," the manager called after him, "if there's any change left take another bath."

An Effective Treatment.

At the bedside of a patient who was a noted humorist five doctors were in consultation as to the best means of producing a perspiration.

The sick man overheard the discussion, and, after listening for a few moments, he turned his head toward the group and whispered, with a dry chuckle:

"Just send in your bills, gentlemen. That will bring it on at once."—Ladies' Home Journal.

No Rebate.

When Adelina Patti visited Madrid one time in company with her husband, Signor Niccolini, who thought himself a tenor singer, there was an effort to engage the noted artist for an special occasion. The opera director asked Patti:

"How much will you charge us if you and your honored husband appear on this occasion for one night?"

"Ten thousand francs, sir."

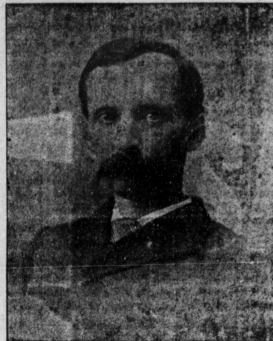

"And how much if you come without the signor, madame?"

"Ten thousand francs."

The Polite Conductor.

I heard a pleasant story the other day which was told to illustrate the softening effects of a fashionable thoughtfulness upon the manners of bus conductors, or, rather, upon their sense of correctness. A lady, the wife of an eminent surgeon, happened to be the sole occupant of a horse bus that was slowly climbing the Piccadilly hill. A motor bus passed, and the conductor of it saw fit to indulge in pointed and ill timed pleasantry. The conductor of the horse bus made no effort to reply, and the lady, to assuage his feelings as he rather savagely punched her ticket said, "He seems to have the gift of gab." The reply was, "Yes, ma'am, as you vulgarly puts it, he do."—Manchester Guardian.

JUDGE JAMES D. BLACK,
New President Elect of Union College.

BOARD

Of Education of Union College in Session Here.

Elected President of Union College.

The members of the Board of Education of Union College, held a meeting in this city Tuesday and elected Judge James D. Black as the President of Union College to succeed Dr. James W. Easley, whose time will expire with the close of the school in the latter part of May.

The rumor has been current for some time that Judge Black would be selected for this place, but the matter was not finally disposed of until this meeting, when he was elected and accepted the position.

Prof. P. L. Ports and wife were elected to take charge of the young Ladies Dormitory for the next year, and they have accepted the position with all its responsibilities.

The board adjourned without going further into the selection of teachers for the next year and will complete the faculty at a later date.

The citizens of our town are delighted to know that Judge Black has accepted the Presidency of our College and it is freely predicted that this next year will be the greatest in the history of the institution.

FIRE!

Last Thursday afternoon about five o'clock, the cry of fire was heard and in a short time it was learned that the home of E. A. Geary, Superintendent of the Water Works, the Costello house on Main Street, was on fire.

The fire department made a quick run and soon had a line of hose laid and the fire was soon under control. Near-by neighbors had almost conquered the fire with a small garden hose before the fire department reached the fire.

The fire originated in the roof over the middle section of the house, caused, no doubt, by rats striking a match that had been deposited by birds.

The damage amounted to perhaps $100, which was covered by insurance.

The fire boys have demonstrated that a fire has but little chance in this city now, when it is discovered.

Growing by Leaps and Bounds

Special attention is directed to the advertisement in this issue of the Bartlesville (Okla.) Townsite Company. No more progressive, prosperous and promising city in the country. A dot in the map less than ten years ago, it is now an industrial metropolis of 15,000.

Here are some of its industries:—

Portland Cement Plant, 1, cost $1,350,000. Zinc Smelters, 3, cost $3,000,000. Boiler Works, 2, Brick Plants, 1. Blacksmith shops, 4. Foundry: (iron and brass) 2. Ice and Cold Storage Plant, 1. Steam Laundries, 2. Sash and Door factories, 3. Broom Factory, 1. Ice Cream Factory, 1. Cement Block factory, 1. Cigar factories, 2. Bottling works, 1. Oil Well Supply factories, 2. Oil Packer Co., 1. Window Shade factory, 1. Glass factory, 1. Machine Shops, 2. Tank Manufacturing plant, 1. Electric light and Power Houses, 2. Wagon factories, 2.

The Commercial Club is adding the following factories: Two large Cement plants, 270 acres having recently been bought for one of these plants, also a large Steel Rolling Mill to employ from 750 to 1,000 men, and four glass plants.

Bartlesville district produces 100,000 barrels of oil daily. Mid-Continent Oil field produced $20,000,000 crude oil last year. Bank deposits, $2,148,729.76 in one year.

A NOTABLE VISITOR.

Barbourville has this week had a notable and distinguished visitor in Mr. A. W. DeBell, of Bartlesville, Oklahoma, a native of Fleming county, Kentucky. Mr. DeBell has, in a brief few years, achieved in Oklahoma a permanent position in the leading ranks of the giant young State's financial and property owning circles. No such word as failure in the lexicon of such Kentuckians as Mr. DeBell. In Mr. DeBell's particular edition of the American Dictionary, the word stand still, was long ago, erased. Bright, progressive, hopeful, this worthy young Kentuckian offers in his own remarkable success, the most stirring incentive to young men to go forth and win triumph redounding to the credit of home, family and native State.

Wilton

A. C. Vauht, the flour man was here Friday.

J. S. Miller, the grocery drummer, was here Monday.

John W. Felner, representing J. M. Robinson, Norton & Co. of Louisville was in Wilton Friday.

Walker Hood, of Corbin, visited R. O. Austin Sunday.

Arther Williams and Simon Goings attended court in Barbourville last Monday.

A. M. Decker, representing the Swann Abram Hat Co., was in Wilton Tuesday.

Mrs. May Wallace left Saturday morning for Egass, Tenn., to visit her sister, Mrs. Alloway.

Mr. Charles Owens spent Sunday here. He is one of the old clerks, and all of the young folks were glad to see him again.

Dr. Jenkins was called to his home at Elizabethtown on business Tuesday. During his absence he will have Dr. Moss, of Williamsburg, in his place.

The young ladies and gentlemen of Wilton enjoyed a "swop" last Sunday, with the exception of Jim Hall and Elizabeth Burch. Wonder why they didn't swop?

Dr. Jenkins says that he has only one patient that is very serious and that is John Morris, who has a case of "heart trouble." John says he can not live a week.

Misses Lydia Engle and Emma Cooper, of Indian Creek, called in to see Joe Hopper, our new clerk, last Saturday. Joe seemed to be more than pleased with their visit.

Miss Myrtle Gilbert, who is now attending school at Williamsburg, returned home for a three days visit Miss Cleo Howard, her schoolmate was her guest while at home.

Rev. John T. Stamper preached the annual sermon for the K. of P. Sunday night. The house was full to overflowing and all who heard him say he preached a masterful sermon.

The members of the Wilton Sunday school were joyfully surprised by a visit from Mr. Harrison Cornett, Sunday, who came in behalf of his son Ezra, who was home on a visit from Big Hill. They are in hopes that they will have as great attraction next Sunday.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

By virtue of Execution No. 2125, directed to me, which issued from the Clerk's office of the Knox Circuit Court, in favor of W. E. Grinstead & Co., against Andrew Smith and George Smith, and by virtue of Execution No. 2124, directed to me, which issued from the Clerk's office of the Knox Circuit Court, in favor of C. J. McClung & Co., against Andrew Smith and George Smith, I, or one of my deputies, will, on Monday the 28th day of March, 1910, between the hours of 10 o'clock, a. m. and 4 o'clock, p. m., at the Court house door in Barbourville, Knox County, Kentucky, expose to Public Sale, to the highest bidder, the following property (or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the amount of both plaintiffs' debts, interests and costs amounting to about $720): A certain tract or parcel of land lying on the road fork of Stinking Creek, Knox County, Kentucky, and known as a part of the Solomon Hammons farm, and bounded and described as follows:

Beginning on a black oak near the road; thence with the road E. crossing the creek, to the mouth of drain; thence straight line up the drain to top of the point, to a hickory and beech; thence with the meanders of the ridge to J. E. Hammon's line; thence W. with J. E. Hammon's line to Mills' line, thence with the Mills line back to the beginning. This is the same land that was decided by Andrew Smith and wife to George Smith and wife on July 14th, 1904, and now of record in Deed Book 18, page 338, which deed is referred to for a more definite description. Said property is levied on as the property of George Smith.

TERMS—Sale will be made for cash in hand.

FOR TAFT OR FOR EDWARDS.

"Dickey" Knott, of the Louisville Evening Post, which is Congressman Edwards' strongest endorser for the Republican nomination in the Eleventh District, in terms virulent and mendacious repudiates President Taft. Knott's repudiation of any public man, especially a Republican, is a sign and indication, clear as well as positive, that the repudiated Statesman has done something deserving the people's praise and gratitude.

Were anything needed to convince the mass of Kentucky Republicans that President Taft is well, faithfully and ably serving the Nation's interest, the opposition of the Louisville Post to President's course and policies, had supplied the missing link.

But for the support given by the Post to Mr. Taft in 1908, the President had likely beaten Mr. Bryan in Kentucky. Knott was, however, too heavy a load to bear across any turbulent stream. Mr. Knott has increased the popularity of every man he opposes. The Courier-Journal is, to-day, thanks largely to the Knotty warfare upon it, a stronger and more influential paper than ever.

Mayor Grinstead went down under the load of the Post's praise. Crippie Beckham, its nominee for United States Senator, in 1908, failed of election in a Legislature having a majority of his own political faith.

The Post's entire career is marked by the tombstones of the public men it has praised, and by the triumphal arches of those it has opposed. To the Post's vituperation of President Taft, the people of the Eleventh District would give little heed, but for the fact that it has, while assailing President Taft, Senator Bradley, and Caleb Powers, undertaken to tell this Republican District that it must re-elect D. C. Edwards to Congress.

What is the matter with Mr. Edwards' Republicanism, that it finds such favor in the eyes of President Taft's vituperator and villifier?

Who is head of the Republican party? Dick Knott? D. C. Edwards? or President Taft?

The Republic of the Eleventh Kentucky District recognize in President Taft, their leader and chief. They trust and cherish this illustrious statesman, who at the Bar, on the Bench, at the head of affairs in the Philip, pines, in the Cabinet and in the White House, has displayed an ability, a power of achievement and a foresight never surpassed in American history.

Up now, is it, to the people of the Eleventh District to say whether they are for Taft or for the Knotty spurious Democratic foe? For Powers, the supporter of Taft or for Edwards, the nominee of Taft's arch-enemy in Kentucky, Richard W. Knott. Alibel, it certainly were upon the gallant Republicans of the Mountains to even think them capable of deserting the Republican Chief Magistrate of the Nation for a Knott or an Edwards.

FIXING THE PRIMARY.

The Williamsburg Times, voicing the sentiment of Mr. Edwards and his crowd, has given out its idea of when the Primary should be held and fixes the time at some time in August or September and offers for an excuse that some one else might want to enter the race, and this would give him plenty of time.

This crowd is not in near such a hurry to have the primary called and disposed of as they were two years ago when they anticipated the pardon of Caleb Powers, and feared that should he be given his liberty he would become a candidate for the nomination. Then everything was in a rush and the date was fixed without considering whether any other person might want to become a candidate, but now the situation is changed and Mr. Edwards and his crowd realizing that Mr. Powers has the race already won, are slow about having the primary called to allow the people to express their wishes at the polls.

It has been stated that it was not the purpose of the Edwards crowd to have a primary, but would attempt to call a convention and pack same with Edwards' supporters, composed of Federal office holders and ride rough-shod over the wishes of the people, but such a course will not be permitted and if they have not already discovered the fact we will state that the people intend to have a primary if there is more than one candidate to enter the race. The people do not intend to be defeated in their choice in this matter and the crowd that attempts to over-ride the people will receive such a stinging rebuke that it will not be soon forgotten.

LET THE PEOPLE CHOOSE.

The Republicans of the Eleventh District are entitled to select their nominee for Congress by a primary. In no other way may every Republican voter have the opportunity of freely expressing individual choice. The District is so extensive, its railway service so very limited, its common highways, in so many instances defective and difficult, that, to obtain a fair expression of opinion from all sections of the District, a primary bringing the polling booth to every man's door is the one sure way to get at the real sentiment of the Republican voters.

Mr Powers and his friends call for a primary. They desire to give every man the freest and fullest opportunity to express his choice. Mr. Edwards has not yet expressed himself, but some of his friends declare in favor of a late Convention. A packed and canned Convention, held in the closing days of August next, might be, in their estimation, depended on to deliver the goods.

Republicans of the Eleventh do protest against a Goebelized District Convention. They call for a primary to be held in June. Against such a course, no fair minded man can protest. A primary, permitting every Republican to vote, and insuring the counting of every vote as cast, should be acceptable to all candidates for the nomination.

If the majority of the Republicans are, as his friends claim, in favor of Mr. Edwards, the latter has, surely, no reason to fear a primary. Mr. Powers is not boastful, but does claim that the Republicans of the District want him in Congress. All he, now, asks, that his fellow Republicans of the mountains be given a fair opportunity to express their preference at the polls.

If a majority pronounces against Mr. Powers' he will cheerfully and loyally fall back into the rank and do yeoman's duty for the fairly selected nominee. But neither Mr. Powers, nor his friends, will accept or abide by any, save a just and equitable expression of the popular feeling. No packed Convention, no canned primary will they tolerate.

Mr. A. T. Siler, the District Chairman, is, we believe, a fair minded Republican. Yet a young man, with a future in his own hands, he can, by his action in this crisis of his own career make, or unmake himself, forever.

Not, for one moment, can we ever believe him capable of forever damaging his name and reputation, by lending, even passing aid, to and scheme for the stealing of this year's Congressional nomination.

Three-fourths of the Republican papers of the District favor Mr. Powers' nomination. All the Republicans of the Eleventh, save a few greedy machine politicians, want a fair and an early primary. What say you Mr. Siler? Can you afford to run counter of the people of your home District? It is this District that has heaped honors on your head. It is this District that will, if you permit it, do you further honor.

Be true to your people, and true they will be to you, your purposes and your ambitions, enabling you to leave a name, forever honorable, to succeeding generations, a name in whose uprightness, your children's children shall glory.

We made an earnest fight for Mr. Siler's first and second nominations as Railroad Commissioner. Rejoicing in our action on both occasions we now ask Mr. Siler to give us further cause to stand by him and for him.

SUCCESS FROM THE START.

Meeting with success from the start, Mr. Caleb Powers is daily adding to the already almost interminable roll of his friends. Everywhere in Leslie, Perry and Fletcher, Mr. Powers is certain of a recognition that will carry him to victory at the polls. The communities he has already visited have been stirred to an enthusiasm unknown for years. Mr. Powers has claims on the Mountain people, which they are proud to acknowledge. He has stood for and now stands for principles sacred and dear to liberty loving people. Unselfish, self-sacrificing and devoted, like the people he has sprung from, Mr. Powers is their ideal spokesman. Resolved are they to have him in Congress where he, as their typical representative, may render services on their behalf, to Nation and to State, of which few are capable.

The success, now attending Mr. Powers' canvass, augurs and promises a triumph in November next, the most remarkable in the stirring record of Kentucky's Congressional battles. In Congress Mr. Powers will be a notable figure and an influential member. Proud of him, is and will be the Eleventh District. Proud of voting for him will be every citizen marking his ballot for Powers; proud, also, will be all others by having him for Representative in the Capitol at Washington.

GONE FORTH TO WIN.

Hon. Caleb Powers has left home and clients, to meet, face to face, the gallant and fearless people of the Eleventh District, whom he shall represent in the next Congress. Everywhere he goes he meets with the gladdest acclaim. The mountain people hail their young leader with heartyness that is unmistakable in promise. They show, by demonstrations of the profoundest esteem and affection, their loyalty to the principles he stands for, and their unswerving purpose, to place him where he may best serve the party, whose ensigns they honor and cherish, whose triumphs they glory in, and whose control of this Nation's government they regard as indispensable.

Caleb Powers has gone forth to win. The only question now is the size of his majority in the primary, which the people of the Eleventh are bound to have. In ways that are dark and by tricks that are vain, the Edwards cohorts are busy trying to deny the Mountain Republicans their right to select their candidate by a free ballot and fair count. Succeeded in this nefarious purpose they cannot. The mountain people may not be Goebelized. By the election of Mr. Powers they will, for more, place emphasis on love for fair elections and for government of the people, by the people, for the people. They are Lincoln Republicans and shall have a typical Lincoln Republican spokesman in Congress in the person of the Hon. Caleb Powers.

Dr. J. S. Lock has been in Louisville the greater part of the week.

Rev. T. B. Stratton came in Tuesday from a trip out in the District.

Rev. Isaac Reid is in Frankfort this week looking in on the General Assembly.

Mr. Bleland, of Parksville, Ky., visited his daughter at Union College this week.

Mrs. V. C. McDonald, who has been quite ill for the past week, is improving.

WANTED--100 young men, to attend Baracca Bible Class at the Baptist Church.

Col. W. R. Hughes and John E. Golden returned Thursday morning from a business trip to Knoxville.

J. T. Berry is quite ill at his home on Manchester Street, and grave fears are entertained for his recovery.

Mrs. E. M. McDonald, who has been on the sick list for some weeks past, we are glad to note, is now rapidly improving.

J. O. Gibson is having the second story of his store house fitted up and will be occupied as offices as soon as completed.

H. Cates, the renowned fiddler, was at W. H. Dethage's store Wednesday and Thursday taking measures for Storrs-Schafer.

On Monday evening, March 28th, Prof. Stevenson, of Ohio Wesleyan University, will deliver his famous address on "Lincoln," at Union College.

Prof. Stephenson, as well as Lincoln, is a native of Kentucky. He will be remembered as the son of the late President Stevenson, of Union College.

A number of drills will be special features at the musicale to be given by the class of Miss S. Ella Miller, at the Institute Chapel Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

W. H. Dethage has purchased the entire stock of gents furnishings owned by Black and Dishman. He will run this in connection with his grocery business.

The regular March term of the Knox Circuit Court will begin here next Monday. The January Special term that began on January 17 will possibly come to a close to-day, after being in session for 48 days.

T. N. Wilson was killed at Artemus, three miles South of this city, last Sunday by a freight train on the L. & N. Ry. We failed to learn the particulars in the matter.

Col. W. R. Hughes arrived Monday from an extended trip of several weeks in St. Petersburg, Fla. His family will remain there until some time next month before they return here.

Miss Ella Smith and brother Charles visited their brother George A. Smith and wife at Straight Creek last Sunday. They were accompanied by Mrs. Sue Miller.

Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Albright were called to Lexington, Sunday night on account of the serious illness of their daughter, Miss Lillie, who is attending State College in that city.

The Union College base ball squad began practice last Saturday afternoon. This team made a fine showing last year, and have good prospects for the Championship this year. A good schedule has been arranged.

Alex Stansberry, of Knoxville section, was in town Monday and informed us that his son, J. J. (Mac) Stansberry, has returned from Los Angeles, Cal., where he had been the past year and would remain in "old Kentucky." Mr. Stansberry also informed us that his son, John D., was in Los Angeles and was making good as clerk in a wholesale house.

Barbourville Bottling Works.

The above named industry, managed and owned by George W. Tye and others, is running full time in order to supply the demand for the product of the plant. Tye Cola will have a double run this season, and soft drink vendors will do well to place a stock of this firm's product on their shelves for their thirsty customers.

Why the Lever Looks at the Fire.

When a young Bayard goes a-wooing he pays considerably more attention to the admired one's dress than to her face. If she leaves the billets of wood undisturbed on the hearth it is a sign that he is welcome, but should she place one of the blazing fagots in an upright position against the others it is a hint for him to take his departure.

MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENT.

Miss S. Ella Miller, principal of the Music Department of the Baptist Institute, will give a musicale composed of her class of students, at the chapel, Saturday, March 12th, 7:30 p. m. The entertainment will be under the auspices of the Womans Missionary Union, of the Baptist Church. A small admission of 10 cents will be charged; the proceeds to go to the payment of a piano purchased by the W. M. U. Society, of the Baptist Church. A select program will be arranged.

OAKLAND PIANOS

Our aim is the production of a popular, up-to-date, moderate price piano, possessing that quality of tone, worth, value and durability heretofore not found in pianos selling at comparative prices. The efforts of the Oakland Piano Co. are practical piano men whose lifelong experience in the building and marketing of pianos is concentrated in the development of those essential quality features that attract the careful buyer. The piano is to build one step of one and one-half of one, thereby increasing our output, reducing the cost of production to the minimum, and permitting us to offer quality and individuality in the "Oakland" piano, impossible to obtain any other way. Our new factory is the best equipped and most up-to-date plant in the world, having an output of 5,000 pianos annually. In the quality of the work in the ground engineering, we claim the "Oakland" piano has no equal at the price. If your dealer doesn't handle the "Oakland" piano, write direct to us for catalogue and special introductory price.

A Joint Letter.

When British bluejackets could not write they used to pay a purser's clerk to write for them. The fee was a shilling. Two men on board a British ship in the Baltic during the Crimean war wanted to write to their wives, but since they could only muster a shilling between them they agreed to have a joint letter written to the women to suit both. It began: "R. M. & —. Dear Polly and Susan—This letter comes from your loving husbands. They wish to tell you that they are well. We are thrashing the Russians and mean to thrash 'em again, and when that's done we'll get back, so no more from your loving husband Bill — and your loving husband Jack —"

Old Time Snake Remedies.

There was a time when few first class remedies for really serious maladies did not include some portion of a snake powdered. Snake broth itself was sovereign for many ills. The snake with its tail in its mouth is the symbol of eternity, and as by casting its skin it "renews its youth" it has since the days of Aesculapius been the chosen emblem of the medical fraternity, while Mercury's caduceus, with its writhed snakes, typical of peace, has been used as the badge of commerce. In this same field, however, the snake possesses an even mightier advantage, for the dollar mark ($) is all the serpent entwined about the pillars of Hercules, as it may be seen entwined on the Spanish peso today.
